WEDDING.—The marriage of Mr. J. S. E. Thompson, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Virginia Midland Railway, and Miss Mary Thornton Marrye, daughter of Colonel Morton Marrye, State Auditor of Public Accounts, was celebrated at St. Paul's Church, in this city, at 8:30 o'clock yesterday evening, and was one of the most brilliant affairs of the season. The church was densely crowded with the friends of the bride and groom, and during the ceremony, which was performed in a very impressive manner by Rev. G. H. Norton, the soft, sweet strains of the organ, presided at by Mr. Jones, filled the edifice with delightful music. The church was most beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers, and an exquisite canopy, supported by four columns of roses and surrounded by a magnificent coronet composed of the rarest and choicest flowers, had been erected by the V. M. R. W., assisted by lady friends, in token of their regard for the bride and groom. In front of the canopy, beneath which the bridal party stood during the ceremony, were arranged gas jets—the design of Mr. W. Cogan—forming the monogram "T. M." and as the minister pronounced the words one light forming the M was extinguished, leaving the T alone. The bride was most beautifully and becomingly dressed in white satin with diamonds and pearls, and wore a wedding veil of white tulle decked with roses. She was attended by ten fair and lovely maids of honor, each dressed in different colored silk, forming an animated rainbow, and as the party stood around the chancel a scene of rare and striking beauty was presented. The groom's best man was R. T. Thompson, of Richmond. The bridesmaids were Misses Massie Southall and Martha Southall, of Charlottesville; Beach, Marbury, Windsor, and Johnson, of this city; Dashiell, of Annapolis, Md.; Elder, of Baltimore, and Thompson, of Culpeper. The groomsmen were Messrs. B. Marbury, Ed. Marshall, J. K. Norton and F. F. Marbury, of this city; E. A. Hinton, Jr., of Warrenton; Charles Green, of Rappahannock; L. J. Kent, of Washington; John L. Marrye, Jr., of Fredericksburg; T. W. Cole, of Chicago, and H. C. Thompson, of Richmond. The ushers were Messrs. L. Marbury, W. R. Fowler, Donald Johnston and J. M. Johnson, of this city; E. J. Dashiell, U. S. N., and A. J. Raub, of New York, concluded the procession. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Col. Marrye, on Prince street, where the friends of the newly wedded pair assembled to tender their congratulations, after receiving which Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on the 10:30 train for an extended northern and western tour. The presents were the handsomest and most numerous ever displayed in this city on a similar occasion, embracing articles of rare beauty and great intrinsic value. A number of distinguished gentlemen from different parts of the State were present at the wedding.

Pygmalion and Galatea.—Miss Josephine Kelley and Mr. Frederick Rutledge appeared at Armory Hall last night, supported by an excellent company, and rendered Pygmalion and Galatea in a manner more than satisfying to the audience, which was entranced by the performance—that is those among them capable of appreciating the beautiful, for as usual numbers of boys whose histrionic taste has not advanced far enough to digest anything more solid than the "Virginia Minstrel" or "Scotch Miles" Boy, at times worried their seniors somewhat by giggling and talking during the pathetic portions of the play. W. O. & W. R. R.—As stated in the GAZETTE a meeting of the stockholders of the Washington, Ohio and Western Railroad Company was held in this city yesterday. Col. Archer N. Martin, of New York, the president of the company, occupied the chair, and Charles E. Kimball, of the same place, acted as secretary. Measures necessary to enable the company to extend and improve its line were fully considered, and the resolution of June 12, 1883, was modified so as to enable the company to create a first mortgage of $25,000 per mile for this purpose. This action will enable the company to proceed at an early date with the completion of the road. It is understood, however, though not officially, and hence not given as part of the deliberations of the meeting, that an early completion of the line west of the point of junction with the Shenandoah Valley railroad is contemplated upon the encouragement given by the towns and counties contiguous to the proposed line.

After the stockholders adjourned, the directors met, and in addition to transacting some other important business, received and approved as satisfactory, the report of Superintendent Drobby, of the operations from May 10 to December 31, 1883. The report shows an increase in the business as compared with the corresponding period last year, of over twenty per cent, as well as a decrease in the expenses of operation of more than twenty-six per cent. A very large sum in addition to the net earnings was applied to the improvement of the road and rolling stock. The report also states that the work of relaying the road with steel rail, a large quantity of which is already distributed along the line, will be commenced as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

[The deliberations of the meeting were held with closed doors, but the above prepared statements were furnished the press for publication.]

THE BALTIMORE CONNECTION.—A committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, met a City Council Committee to Baltimore yesterday, to arrange for having a bill of enactment in reference to the proposed $2,000,000 loan to the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company presented to the legislature. The merchants fully set forth the needs of Baltimore having a closer Southern rail connection. Should those having the matter in charge succeed in effecting the traffic agreement they want with the Richmond and Danville, the voters of Baltimore city will in time be called upon to express their views through the ballot as to the city making the $2,000,000 investment in the Richmond and Danville. The prominent business men, who are pushing the project, say that according to the fifty-years contract, which it is proposed the city shall make with the Richmond and Danville Company, the city is to receive collateral security in $2,000,000 of revenue of 6 per cent. income bonds of the Virginia Midland Railroad Company guaranteed by the Richmond and Danville. The money loaned will be used for relaying the Virginia Midland with steel rails, increasing the motive power and rolling stock of the Western North Carolina Road, which connects the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Road with the Richmond and Danville. Under a separate arrangement, with which the loan has nothing to do, the Baltimore and Ohio will build a connecting link between Washington and the Virginia Midland with their own money, and have an agreement with the Richmond and Danville Company for operating this junction road.

ACCIDENT.—The New York Post of Monday evening says: "Mr. F. F. Marbury, the lawyer, of No. 76 Irving Place, on Saturday evening attended the regular monthly meeting of the Century Club, in Fifteenth street, and after the adjournment started to descend the stairs leading from the meeting room to the first story. These stairs are spiral and quite narrow near the banisters. When part way down, Mr. Marbury's foot slipped and turned under him, and being a stout, heavy man, he broke both bones of his leg just above the ankle, besides suffering a severe dislocation of the joint. He would have fallen the remainder of the way down stairs if he had not been caught by Mr. W. F. Bridge, who fortunately happened to be in the room at the time. Surgical aid was promptly rendered, and Mr. Marbury was conveyed to his home, where he will probably be confined to his bed for many weeks."

Mr. Marbury is a near relative of Mr. W. H. Marbury, of this city.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN S. MASTERS.—His many friends and former acquaintances here will learn with deep regret of the death at Berberie, British Guiana, on the 31st of last December, of Mr. John S. Masters, who left this city several years since, and took up his residence in Hamilton, Bermuda, where he was engaged in a prosperous business. Mr. Masters had been in ill health for some time but it was thought in better, and had gone to Berberie, where he had a relative and died. He was a son of the late Capt. John S. Masters and inherited many of his father's qualities, being in all respects a perfect gentleman, and wherever known was universally popular. He leaves a sister and brother, who reside here, and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his death.

PUBLIC DEBATE.—The Patrick Henry Society of St. John's Academy will have public exercises at St. Mary's Hall, the use of which has been kindly granted them for the purpose, on Friday evening next. An address will be delivered by Thomas P. Bayne of this city, and the resolution, "That savage nations have a right to the soil," will be discussed by Dickinson N. Greelish, of Augusta, Ga., and John T. Rafferty, of this city, in the affirmative, and Irving R. Adams, of Baltimore, and Wm. H. Sweeney, of Upperville, Va., in the negative. Before the literary exercises, exhibition drills will be given upon the stage by picked squads of Companies A and B of the cadet corps of St. John's Academy.

THAW IN THE UPPER POTOMAC.—The ice moved out of the Potomac at Cumberland yesterday more quietly than usual. It started at 5 p. m., and the water rose very rapidly. The current was swift and the body of ice passed off rapidly without doing any damage, so far as reported. The ice also moved from Wills creek. The "anticipated freshet" in the river above Georgetown has not yet occurred and the knowledge one is laughing in their sleeves at the manner in which the District Commissioners were gulled by the ones who had axes to grind and "forced" to employ tug boats to prevent an overflow which they were as capable of doing as they were to prevent the tides from rising.

THE RIVER BOATS are now making their regular trips on the same schedules that were in operation before the recent freeze, and sailing vessels are arriving and departing as usual. The Norfolk steamers arrived on time this morning; the Thompson left for her lower river landings, and the Alexandria will make her usual Thursday trip down the river to-morrow. The Washington ferry boat makes regular trips on the uneven half hours.

CHARGES AGAINST JUDGE N. B. MEADE.—Charges of incompetency, misconduct and want of character have been preferred against Judge N. B. Meade, of the Corporation Court of this city, and were last night forwarded to Richmond by Messrs. Geo. A. Mushlow and John M. Johnson, who framed them. The petition, asking his removal was expected to come up in the Legislature to-day.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.—An informal meeting of the directors of the Southern Atlantic and Ohio R. R., and the Virginia Coal and Iron Companies was held at the Bradlock House in this city, to-day but without transacting any business of general interest adjourned until the 20th inst. when they will meet in Philadelphia. Gen. Imboden, one of the directors was in attendance.

THE LICENSE BILL.—A copy of the State license bill, as reported by the Finance Committee of the General Assembly, has been received and its provisions are so objectionable to the merchants of this city that they will hold a meeting at the rooms of the Commercial Exchange to-morrow to protest against its passage.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire about 6 o'clock last night, was caused by a slight fire in the house on the corner of Oronoco and Alfred streets, owned and occupied by Mrs. Brent. The entire department was out, but the firemen extinguished the flames with buckets of water without the assistance of the engines which did not go into service.

HYDRAULIC S. F. E. Co.—The regular meeting of this company last night was very well attended. Richard L. Carne, 1st vice president, occupied the chair with George T. Price as secretary. The committee on Amendments to By-Laws made a full report which was read and unanimously agreed to, and the chairman gave notice that at the next regular meeting he would move their formal adoption.

M. J. Waterman, from the Committee on Improvement of Engine House reported progress. The committee was continued and Wm. L. Clarke added to its draughtsman. Samuel Tenneson from the Committee on Parade reported that the Firemen's Convention had adjourned sine die without action; whereupon Samuel Tenneson, John Lannon and Harry L. Warfield were appointed to attend the meeting of citizens on Wednesday night and pledged the company to yesterday music be furnished, and to attend any convention of firemen that may be held, and supervise arrangements for parade.

David W. Tenneson resigned his office of assistant secretary, and Wm. L. Clarke was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. Norfolk Kirby, Frank Entwistle, Wm. Entwistle, and M. J. Waterman were elected life members and a candidate for active membership, was proposed and referred to a committee.

An active member conspicuously derelict in attending to his duty as such, was dropped from the rolls. Samuel Tenneson gave notice of a proposed amendment to the by-laws fixing a minimum age for life members.

THE W. O. & W. R. R.—In the State Senate yesterday bills were passed to transfer to the county of Clarke the interest of the Commonwealth in the Berryville and Charlestown turnpike; to authorize the W. O. & W. R. R. Co. to make contracts of lease and consolidation with certain other railroad companies, and to connect, cross, and unite with certain other railroads; to confirm the organization of the Washington, Ohio and Western Railroad Company, and declaring such company vested with the powers and franchises possessed by the Washington and Ohio Railroad Company.

A MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE LONDON & BUCKINGHAM CONSTRUCTION AND MINING COMPANY was held at the office of the W. O. & W. R. R. Company in this city yesterday evening at which the provisions of an act of Assembly of Virginia, approved the 18th day of January last, changing the name of said company to Flat Top Coal Company, and conferring certain privileges on said company, were accepted.

At the Thompson-Marlye marriage, at St. Paul's Church last night, a beautiful feature of the decoration was the monogram formed of gas jets and so adroitly arranged that when the couple were pronounced one by the minister the M instantly disappeared, leaving only the T, to the admiration of the beholders. The conception and execution of the device was the work of Mr. William Cogan, whose skill was greatly praised.

The committee appointed on Monday night to select aid for and ascertain the necessary expenses of the proposed Twenty-second parade will meet to-night at the Council chamber and make their report. All are invited to attend. The parade, it is said, will certainly take place.

The cross has been taken down from the top of St. Mary's Church for repairs.

RESOLUTIONS.
At a regular meeting of the citizens of Alexandria held Wednesday, January 16th, 1884, at M. J. Waterman's Tailoring Parlors, cor. King and Fairfax streets, (up stairs) the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.
1st. Resolved, That we find our President M. J. Waterman fully qualified to manage and conduct a first-class merchant tailoring establishment.
2d. Resolved That a vote of thanks be extended to him for the manner in which he trims his garments, using first-class trimmings in every garment, which we believe will be the means of making this the strongest company in the city.
3. Resolved, That his method of trying on garments before they are completed meets with decided approval, as it gives the customer a chance to alter the style of garment, or make such alterations as he desires without any fear of a misfit.
4. Resolved, That his system of having first-rate journeymen tailors to do all his work meets the demand of all parties wishing to get in reality a first class merchant tailoring garment, they knowing positively that men do all his work.
5. Resolved, That we heartily endorse the cutter he has been so fortunate to secure, he being known as the greatest cutter in New York city his cutting qualities being beyond reproach.
6. Resolved, That we appreciate his motive in trying to decrease his large stock of piece goods (which embraces all the best makes of goods) by making suits and overcoats to order at prime cost in order to keep his workmen steadily employed during the dull season.
7. Resolved, That a committee of one hundred men be instructed to call upon the President and ascertain the lowest figures for making suits and overcoats, to be made up in the best manner and in such style as they may choose.
8. Resolved, That these resolutions be given to the GAZETTE for publication, and remain therein, until the entire stock of piece goods have been made up into handsome garments.
9. Resolved, That we adjourn to meet again at the call of our President,
M. J. WATERMAN, The Tailor,
Corner King and Fairfax sts.
By order of the committee,
SAM. BENDISHEIM, Secretary.
